Dresden, 11th – 12th April 2023

The ifo Institute, Dresden Branch warmly invites submissions to the ifo Dresden Workshop on Macroeconomics and International Finance. PhD students and post-doctoral researchers are highly encouraged to submit their latest research. Particularly welcome are contributions on the following topics:

- Drivers and consequences of inflation
- Financial stability and inflation
- Inflation, capital flows and emerging markets
- Asset pricing and inflation
- Has the Phillips curve changed?
- Uncertainty and inflation
- Monetary policy in a high inflation environment
- Economic growth and inflation
- Inflation expectation and forecasting in a high inflation regime

Each paper will be allocated 60 minutes, to be divided between the presentation, a discussion by an assigned workshop participant and a general discussion.

There is no workshop fee. However, participants are expected to pay their own expenses for travelling, accommodation and the joint informal dinner on April 12th.

Submission:

Please submit your (preliminary) paper by January 15th 2024 (GMT+1), via the workshop website.

Acceptance decisions will be announced by 15th of February.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Dresden.
