The ifo Center of Excellence for Migration and Integration Research (CEMIR) will organize a junior economist workshop on migration research. The purpose of the workshop is to bring together junior economists to present and discuss their ongoing research and to stimulate interaction and cooperation between them.

Interested advanced Ph.D. students, postdocs and assistant professors in economics are invited to submit a migration related full research paper together with a CV.

There is no registration fee for presenters. The organizers will provide accommodation and reimburse economy travel costs for presenters of accepted papers (in accordance with the conference travel policy).

For questions, please contact Joop Adema (adema@ifo.de).
